

Four Candidates Run For 3 Council Offices

Regardless of the outcome, the presidency of the student council will still be "in the family" with cousins Freddie Head and Gerald Gurney, both from Troup, the only two official presidential candidates in the race.

Bill Pratt, "of no kin," and a pre-law major, is campaigning for vice-president of the student body.

A future high school chemistry teacher, Elizabeth Balfour, is the sole aspirant to the office of secretary of the student body.

The polls will be open for voting Tuesday, April 29, from 8:35-12:01 a.m. Head, the first to announce, served as president of the freshman class this year. Besides the student council, Head is a member of the bank, Kappa Sigma Lambda, and vice-chairman of the School Spirit Committee.

In high school, Head was a member of the band, was active in sports, and was salutatorian of his graduating class.

Gurney, a business major, who plans to enter the University of Texas when he graduates, is a member of the Apache Association and the BSU.

He lettered in football, basketball, and track in high school, was class president two years. He was elected the "Best Personality" his senior year.

He was valedictorian of his graduating class, attended Boys' State, was a band officer, and was managing editor of Tiger Rag, the Troup High School paper.

Vice-presidential candidate Pratt is also vice-president of the freshman class this year. He is chairman of the School Spirit Committee, a member of Kappa Sigma Lambda, the Tribesman, and Las Mascaras.

He is a graduate of Tyler High School. He was sports editor of the Tyler High Lions Tale, vice-president of his home room, and a member of the Spanish Club.

Candidate for secretary of the student council, Elizabeth Balfour, is a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Atta Kula, personality editor of the Apache Yearbook, secretary of the Tribesman, and the newly elected secretary of MSM.

In high school, she was valedictorian of her graduating class. She was voted to Lindale High School's Who's Who, elected the Most Outstanding Girl, voted Most Likely to Succeed, was president of the Speech Club, and an annual staff member.

Active in 4-H Club work, she is a Gold Star winner.

Only two rules have been set, that campaign expenses do not exceed $10, and that no posters will be attached to the marble in the halls.

Offices Are Open For 7 Candidates

Offices are open for four cheerleaders and three sophomore class officers.

Candidates for the seven positions must meet with Student Council President Gayle Essary Wednesday, April 30 for placement on the ballot and their order for speaking in the campaign assembly. Essary and other council members will meet with the candidates in the Board Room at the activity period.

The campaign assembly is Thursday, May 1 at activity period in Wise Auditorium.

Qualification for the seven candidates include:

- (1) Candidate must be full-time student carrying a minimum course of 15 semester hours.
- (2) He must be doing satisfactory work (minimum C average; no grade below a D).
- (3) He must pledge to remain full second year at TJC.
- (4) He must appear (try-out or speak) in campaign assembly.

The selection will be by secret ballot May 8 from 8:25 - 12:01.

Two more cheerleaders will be elected next fall, along with freshmen class officers from the incoming freshman class.

30-MINUTE TV APPEARANCE

Choir Maps Four-Day Texas Tour

A four-day tour that will include eight performances in five Texas towns and cities, and a 30-minute TV appearance in Houston is part of a program the Concert Choir has mapped out to begin Thursday, May 1.

With a repertoire to meet all demands the choir will plan each program as it comes, singing the most appropriate numbers for the occasion.

Traveling by chartered bus the 36-member group will perform at Mineola, Quitman, and Lindale high schools the first day of the tour. Friday the choir will leave for Houston, but stopping for a morning performance at Rusk High School.

The first Houston Concert will be a 30-minute television program on KUTH-TV, Houston, at 6 o'clock Friday evening. Members of the choir will then be guests of the University of Houston for a college presentation of the opera, "Martha."

John Hunter, who took over the directorship of the choir this semester, said Saturday's schedule is not definite. But plans to perform for the Houston Veteran's Hospital, one of the largest in the country, are under consideration, he said.

A special music service at Bethany Christian Church in Houston Sunday morning and an evening program at Sam Houston State College in Huntsville will climax the series of performances.

During the Houston engagement the choir will reside in the guest quarters of the University of Houston.

The choir is prepared for everything, said Hunter. Both choir robes and concert dress will be packed for the trip and a variety of program selections is ready to meet all types of audiences, he said.

The musical itinerary for each program will be set by the choir as the occasion demands, Hunter continued. Sacred numbers will be reserved for the church service and lighter pieces for the high school performances.

"We have a good variety and should be able to suit everyone's taste," said Hunter.

Ready in reserve for specialty numbers are Violinist Ann Rylands, Pianist Nancy Garner, and young recording artist, Robin Hood Briens.

Hunter expressed hopes that tours similar to this year's will become an annual spring activity for the choir.

"We hope to perform more throughout this area and acquaint neighboring communities with the fact that we have a fine music department and a fine college.

"We think such planned trips will develop professional attitudes

5th Annual Honors Assembly Will Be May 6

Some 70 or 80 students will receive individual recognition at the fifth annual Honors Day Assembly, Tuesday, May 6. The special assembly honoring students of outstanding achievement will be held in Wise Auditorium, beginning at 10:15 a.m.

Dean E. M. Potter said the exact number of students to be recognized had "not yet been definitely determined" but he felt sure the number would equal or surpass the 78 last year.

He said only a brief program preceding the presentation of honors would be scheduled this year.

The tentative program is the invocation, two special numbers by Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter, and a few introductory remarks by President H. E. Jenkins, preceding presentation of awards by Dr. Potter.

The honors to be awarded vary, but all represent a high level of accomplishment. They include scholarships, outstanding accomplishments, and awards of distinction based on scholastic ability, and/or service.

Scholarships

The scholarships awards Dr. Potter has announced to date are: The $100 Mary Wallace Education Scholarship, established by Emmitt Williams, a former teacher training major of Mrs. Wallace, will be awarded a freshman future teacher.

The $100 DAR History Scholarship will go to a freshman history major by the Mary Tyler chapter of the Daughters of American Revolution.

The Coterie Club Scholarship will be awarded to an outstanding music student.

A $50 Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority Scholarship will be presented some freshman girl.

The $120 Swanson Essay awards will go to the winners of the essay contest. Essays are being written today, tomorrow, and Friday under faculty supervision.

Outstanding Accomplishments
Awards for outstanding accomplishments are:

The Engineer's Club will present a slide rule to an outstanding graduating engineering student.

Two copies of the "handbook of Chemistry and Physics" will be awarded students having the highest average for the first semester in Chemistry 114 and Physics 114. Their names will be engraved on the front of their respective books.

The T. B. Butler Publishing Company will present a silver key to the outstanding journalism student.

The Rotary Young Citizens Award, based on good citizenship, scholarship, and character, will be awarded a man and woman.

Departmental honors will go to

3rd Bible Center Will Be Erected Before Next Fall

Students will have access to a third Bible Chair next semester.

Under the direction of the Elders of the Glenwood Church of Christ, the church plans to construct a building estimated at between $25,000 and $30,000.

The building, to be constructed of masonry, will be erected on the unit plan to provide for future growth of the Bible Chair. The first units will consist of one large room, library, chapel, and student lounge.

Location of the Church of Christ Bible center will be between the Baptist and Methodist Bible centers in the 1300 block on South Baxter Street and just across from the campus.

P. D. Wilmeth, minister of the Glenwood Church of Christ, will be instructor at the new center. James Fife, now completing his work at Abilene Christian College, will be director of student activity.

Mr. Wilmeth will teach courses in a Survey of the Old Testament and a Survey of the New Testament. He said plans were being considered for night classes, but only day classes will be taught the first semester.

The third chair means additional encouragement for students interested in religious education and related fields. Established chairs are the Baptist, directed by the Reverend Arthur Fry.

"As much as two full years, or 12 hours, of Bible may be transferred to another college. All courses are given full college credit on transfer.

3 Students Compete In Forensic Contest

Three students will enter the Forensic Contest of the Texas Junior College Speech Association on the campus of Texas A&M College Friday.

Students and their field of work are Fred Head, oratory; Dixie Knight, dramatic impersonation; and Tom Arthur, poetry reading. Dr. Jeane Browne and Lawrence Birdsong Jr. of the speech department will accompany them.

Dixie will do a cutting from the play "The Silver Cord" by Sidney Howard. Head will use his research paper, "The Evolution of Education." Arthur's poem is "What is a Man" by Thomas Wolfe.

Freddie Head, Gerald Gurney, Bill Pratt Issue Platforms

By BILL PRATT

If elected vice-president of the student council, I pledge to conscientiously be responsible for the following:

- 1) The duties of the president in his absence.
- 2) Scheduling a series of social activities throughout the year where all students can actively participate and enjoy.
- 3) Work for closer union between clubs and associations.
- 4) Work conscientiously toward a better understanding and harmony between members of the faculty and the student body.

By GERALD WADE GURNEY

Realizing that the office of president of the Student Council is a very honorable and dignified position in which one is answerable first and last to the student body which he has been chosen to represent, I have given much conscientious thought to the arrangement of my platform. If elected as your president, I will do my best to execute the following eight-point program:

- 1—Increase scholarship incentive among students.

- 2—Increase school spirit.

- 3—Improve the library facilities.

- 4—Arrange a workable program of intermural athletics.

- 5—Improve the social activities of the school.

- 6—Install a student suggestion box.

- 7—Encourage greater participation in student elections.

- 8—Strive to the utmost of my ability to accomplish the ends presented in my platform and to carry out all suggestions which would be mutually advantageous to a majority of the student body.

To more clearly define the planks of my platform, I add the following explanations:

To increase scholarship incentive, I propose to place more emphasis on brains and less on other admirable qualities. After all we are college students, so let's think like mature adults.

To increase school spirit, I shall place more emphasis on team supporting organizations such as the Tribesmen and encourage the organization of more similar organizations.

The library is very inadequate in some fields. I shall try to obtain a greater variety of source material on modern subjects.

I propose to develop a full program of intramural athletics and to encourage active participation from everyone. This will provide an interesting competitive spirit which should carry over into other school work.

After hearing numerous complaints from fellow students in regard to the social activities at TJC, I think a reformation would be in order. I will encourage the various clubs and organizations to work out programs of entertainment that would be appealing to all students and will encourage everyone to participate in these activities.

I will install a student suggestion box and appoint a committee to study the suggestions, the most pertinent of which will be presented to the council for action. This would help the student council to be more aware of your desires.

Student elections could be greatly improved if more people could be encouraged to run for the various offices. This could be accomplished to some extent by giving more publicity to coming elections.

As I have stated previously, I realize this, the office of president of the student council, to be the most honorable position that can be bestowed upon an individual here at Tyler Junior College. It is so because it stands as an example of the faith of the group in the leadership of its president.

If you choose to elect me to this coveted position, I will work my heart out to fulfill my duties, responsibilities, and your wishes. May all the accomplishments be yours, as students of Tyler Junior College.

By FREDDIE HEAD

As I submit my platform to the student body, I realize that the future of Tyler Junior College depends upon the way each of us enters into our school activities.

We all know by now that college is a heck of a lot of work, and I guess we all get mad and cuss it a little when things get rough, but I think we should all be proud to attend a school with such high standards and outstanding accomplishments as TJC.

During this past school year we have enjoyed many distinctions; our football team had a very successful season and topped it off with a bowl victory; our basketball team was barely edged out in the regional tournament by the eventual National Junior College champions; our Apache Belles and Apache Band carried our colors to the Sugar Bowl game in New Orleans; and our social, professional and religious campus organizations have grown and functioned successfully. All in all, we have had a good year.

With the cooperation, assistance and suggestions of the student body, I hope to help make next year even more successful.

Our football team is working out every day now, and with a little support from our student body, they will be playing in that California Rose Bowl game next December. Our basketball team will be hurt by graduation, but they will be in there fighting all the way, and with a little luck they could win a trip to the national tournament.

Our Apache Belles and Apache Band will be supporting TJC all the way, and we look forward to having a hard working group of clubs and organizations. Next year should be a great success.

I have composed a platform designed to benefit the entire student body, give each student a chance to voice his opinions, and bring Tyler Junior College still greater accomplishments.

With the welfare of the entire student body in mind, I feel that we need:

(1) A better organized, harder working student council. I will strive to accomplish this by dividing the various jobs among the council members and by giving each member a definite responsibility.

(2) A student relations committee, one representative from each campus organization, regardless of size, and five representatives from independent students to meet periodically with the student body president, discuss ideas, and submit grievances which the president will bring before the council.

(3) Better student support for our athletic events and social functions. This can be accomplished by good, thorough publicity and high quality school activities.

(4) More participation in school activities by clubs and organizations. This can be accomplished by giving clubs and organizations an opportunity at pep rallies and assemblies and by stimulating individual pride within these groups.

(5) More money for student activities. With the increased enrollment, we need more money for student activities and club and organization allocations. I will strive to obtain this money from the administration.

(6) An intramural athletic program. Tennis, ping pong, softball, etc. to keep things going after our intracollegiate sports are over for the year.

(7) An all-college talent show to be given by our students, publicized well, and charged for, the money going to some worthy charity.

(8) More pride in our school. We have great athletic teams outstanding band and Belles; fine social, professional, and religious organizations; and very high standards for our school work. TJC is our school. Let us be proud of it.

The success of my platform depends on the support of the student body before and after the election.

I will do all I can to make this platform work if the student body supports it because I feel that the first duty of a student body president is to express the desires of the students and strive to meet their needs.

I will be glad to discuss any part of my platform with you at any time, and I will appreciate your suggestions, for I want to serve you.

Sticklers!

IF SILENCE WERE REALLY GOLDEN, fishermen would be up to their hip boots in cash. They're so noiseless, they won't even wear loud shirts. But when they (Groan!) run out of Luckies, they almost lose control. They rant, rave and blow their stacks—all in sign language, of course! Result? The unusual phenomenon called a Quiet Riot! Lucky's popularity, after all, is no fluke. A Lucky is the best-tasting cigarette you can buy—and for good reason. It's made of naturally light, good-tasting tobacco, toasted to taste even better. So why flounder around? Get Luckies yourself!

Robin Hood Brians

Robin Hood Brians Writes, Sings, Plays; 'Dis A Itty Bit'

By MARTHA GUEST

With official and encouraging word from a TV station in Fresno, Calif., on his recent record, "Dis A Itty Bit" Robin Hood Brians is hoping for a "nation-wide hit."

The California station reported that "Dis A Itty Bit" was selected by a panel of five teenagers to make the national hit parade.

"But you can't even tell," reflected Robin Hood, "not until the royalty checks come in."

Robin Hood, a freshman music major here, wrote the music and words, played the piano, and sang his new record, an extremely unusual experience. "I'm sure there are a few others who have also done it, Robin Hood conceded, but I can't think of any right now."

In the business of writing songs for four years now, his versatility enables him to do both rock-and-roll and ballads.

He has written three new songs—two ballads and one rock-and-roll. They have not been named, and he has not yet written the words to one of the ballads.

Robin Hood said he "wants to continue with both ballads and rock-and-roll. I don't want to specialize in singing either, because I get a kick out of writing, singing, and playing."

Method Of Composition

He has two methods of composing. Sometimes he just hears a phrase and builds the words from that. Sometimes he sits at the piano and plays phrases until he gets an idea from the music.

According to Robin Hood, recording is the most fun. "I was always interested in electronics and hi-fidelity, and the fancy microphones are fascinating."

"Next, I like the personal appearance. TV is my favorite. You really have to stay on your toes, because the camera is always right there close."

Recording is not always as easy as it sounds. When Robin Hood went to Nashville, Tenn., to cut "Itty Bit," he knew the song from

Dozier To Present Journalism Award

Bill Dozier, editor of the Tyler Courier-Times and the Tyler Morning Telegraph, will recognize the outstanding sophomore journalism major in the Honors Day assembly, May 6, with a traditional silver key.

This year's winner will be the fourth TJC journalism major to receive the key and the presentation will be Dozier's fourth.

Contributions to the college paper, general journalistic ability, initiative, and achievement are the basis for selection of the outstanding young journalist. The silver key is T. B. Butler's recognition of these qualifications.

Past winners are Ray Lewis, graduate of the University of Texas and now with the Temple Telegram; Bob Bowman, sports writer for the Lufkin Daily News; and Nelwyn Williams, a student at the University of Texas.

A banquet every five years for all past winners and given in connection with national newspaper week or at some other appropriate and convenient time, is also part of the plans for recognition of the award winners.

One change will be made for next year's candidates; a total of nine hours in journalism will be required for eligibility to become a candidate for the award. Six hours has been the requirement.

New Course Changes Math Program Order

An advanced course in calculus will be added to the math program, making 18 hours in mathematics available to pre-engineers, math, and physics majors.

These added three hours—making a total of 9 hours in calculus—will somewhat alter the order in which math courses are taken:

Freshman engineering students will still follow the traditional plan of taking algebra 113 A and trigonometry in the fall semester. But in the spring semester they will take the first course in calculus concurrently with analytic geometry. As sophomore, they will take another six hours of calculus, the last three hours of which will be an advanced course.

This order of course arrangement is in line with what is being offered in the first two years in Texas A&M, Texas Tech, and other colleges.

Assisting Miss Mabel Williams, head of the math department, are instructors Mrs. Sammie Smyrl and John H. Garner.

Both Dean E. M. Potter and Miss Williams said the "extra three hours of calculus would greatly strengthen the mathematics program."

It will enable any pre-engineering, math or physics major to get a complete two-year mathematics course that will prepare him for his junior year in any senior college.

Teachers Attend Math Convention

Four Tyler math teachers attended the annual meeting of the Texas Association of the Mathematical Section of the American held at Baylor University Friday and Saturday.

Attending from TJC were John H. Garner, Mrs. Sammie Smyrl, and Mabel Williams; and Mrs. Earl Williams from Tyler High School.

The Friday session consisted mainly of contributed papers. Research papers discussed were "Undetermined Coefficients," "A Rodriguez Formula," "Congruences and a Certain Geometrical Construction," and "Some Aspects of Dimensional Analysis."

Saturday's session was devoted to discussing several topics of current interest in mathematics education. Among topics discussed were:

"Can High School Plane Geometry and Solid Geometry Be Taught by Analytical Geometry?" by H. J. Ettlinger, the University of Texas; "A Report of the Texas Commission on Mathematics Curriculum of the Secondary and Elementary Schools," Don Edmondson, SMU; "A Report and Demonstration of University of Houston Video Program in Plane Trigonometry," by Charles P. Benner and Curtis A. Rogers, The University of Houston.

Entertainment Friday night consisted of a banquet in the Drawing Room of the Baylor Union Building, followed by "The Golden Stairs," the major production of the year for the Baylor theater. The play was written by Ramsey Yelvington of Borne and directed by Paul Baker and the Baylor Theater staff.

Discarded Freedom?

Does the average 20-year-old understand the freedoms upon which this country was built 175 years ago, or has he waived those freedoms?

If the youth of one college could be considered representative of all college youth, then—the majority of people around 20 years old have accepted the framework of dictatorship.

According to an ACP, report, recent polls by Eugene Gilbert, expert youth surveyor, and his samplings of opinion from students at Purdue University indicate a lack of concern among students for the kind of government under which they live.

Gilbert found that half the students at Purdue say they are ready to dispense with freedom of the press. Some would grant police the right to search without warrant and a few even advocate governmental restrictions on religious beliefs and worship!

Is their pliant acceptance of Gestapo techniques and the willingness to have someone take over and control the body and soul of thought and communication strong enough to indicate a symptom of youthful thinking?

It is generally conceded that students allow themselves to be led about by the nose intellectually by failing to prepare themselves for class. They are not informed well enough to be able to ask questions about the assignment, let alone do research and outside reading to match their instructor's opinion with those of others.

They are too lazy to search other sources to form their own opinions and so accept those of others as their own.

If these figures present an indicative picture, it will be a minority of today's students who must take over the responsibilities of keeping democracy alive. This minority will be the ones who stick up for their rights in that democracy. They are the ones who now use required history and government courses as tools to learn to think and care about the rule under which they will work and live.

In a few short years protectors of the democratic freedoms upheld by our fathers and grandfathers will have to be found among the 20-year-olds of today.

Will the conscientious minority of today be strong enough to carry the weight of the "spongers of democracy" and maintain the freedoms of our democracy?—J. M.

Rock 'N Roll Will Not Last

The lyricist who wrote the words "rock 'n' roll is here to stay" is suffering from a delusion.

At present this wild form of music is at its peak. It is being sung by the youngster for the younger set. Very few of the currently popular singers are past their teens. Even the songwriters are young.

It has been said that rock 'n' roll releases the emotions of teenagers. This may be true, but in reality it is just one of the ways in which youth tries its wings in an effort to do something different, to learn something new.

But this generation, as have all other generations, will soon grow older and will be replaced by a new one. This new generation will have its own form of musical escape and it will replace rock 'n' roll as rock 'n' roll replaced boogie woogie.

In the true sense of the word many say rock 'n' roll is not really music. It may also be true that very few of the "tang tang walla walla bangs" will be remembered a few years from now, but while they are here they put youth where it belongs, in the spotlight of public interest. Now more than ever youth is being recognized by the public.

Still Time To Change

"It's later than you think" may be altered to "It's not as late as you think" for that percentage of the 200 graduates who have not quite made up their minds about a major.

The story of how a locale teacher explored until he found the "right career" (page 8 of this issue) might lend the unhappy undecided a pocketful of faith.

The local instructor, Dr. Wiley Jenkins, generally considered by those who know, as one of the most competent of history teachers on either a junior or senior college level, not only changed his major but changed his career until he found the profession he best fitted into.

Chances are that the semester hours he lost were compensated several times over in the experience he gained from looking into the other careers.

If yours looks like the wrong major, you still have time at the age of 20, to change your mind.

Apache Baseball Club Wins Two Out Of Four Games

News from the Apache Pow Wow, 1947:

The TJC Apache baseball club, striving desperately to maintain a winning team under unavoidable handicaps, have won two out of four games.

Julius Stagner in an interview of the club's goings-on earlier this week, stated that there are plans for some night games. The first will be against Van Pure Oil at Trojan Park in Tyler.

TJC girls have discovered the new off the shoulder, calf-length formal, and many of these dresses were seen at recent college dances.

The TJC luncheon and style show was held in the THS cafeteria Saturday, April 26, at 12 o'clock. It was given for AKK by D. K. Caldwell. All TJC girls were invited.

Faculty Briefs

According to Coach Floyd Wagstaff, the faculty really enjoyed the luncheon Mrs. Averille Greenhaw and the home economics department gave them last week. The menu was tomato juice cocktail, ham, buttered limas, candied yams, pineapple and cottage cheese salad, apple pie, and iced tea.

While on the subject of food, Wagstaff also mentioned the daily coffee hour at the home ec department. "This is the time when the teachers gather to gossip, discuss mutual problems, and get to know one another. Everyone has come to love that time of day." And a reporter might add, "What an opportunity to get news tips—if students were allowed."

Since Faculty Briefs did not appear in the last issue, John Garner's birthday wish must be belated. (April 22).

Mrs. Blanche Prejean, journalism instructor, and James Murray, English instructor, will be two of the three judges at the Texas State Story Telling Festival Saturday in Van. The state league is affiliated with the national league.

The Festival will convene at 9:30, with story telling until noon. Following a luncheon the story-telling will continue.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

ACP Briefs

(ACP)—One can only wonder if man will be bored to death in twenty years. A recent preview for a southern-historical-novel-type film shouts "Sherman's march to the sea is just one of the dozens of thrills you get in this great movie."

One hundred years ago Sherman's march all by itself would have been enough to keep anyone thrilled ... for a couple of hours at least.

Gayle's Letter To The Student Body

In less than one week, you will have elected the backbone of your next student government.

The responsibility of your vote rests on the fact that the next student council will have the same duties as this one does, and possibly more.

They will need to compromise as well as organize. The council must iron out problems which might exist between the student body and the administration and make improvements in this working relationship.

This group will plan an entire year of extra-curricula activities: socials, dances, and other club and campus participations.

How well the student body and the administration are able to find solutions for mutual problems will depend, like the quality of your activities, on your vote this year.

At one time or another during the next college year, a student council decision will affect every individual student. Now is the time you can make known how you would like the decision to affect you.

You can do this by studying the platforms of all the candidates, talking to them personally, deriving an opinion as to their background and ability—and by one of the most effective methods: VOTING!

One campus election this year was decided by a very slim margin of ONE VOTE. It may be your candidate who may not win unless you sign your name on the ballot next Tuesday.

As in football, it takes all members of any group to make a convincing team, and only a team which can make decisions in a huddle and follow the instructions of the coach or quarterback when on the playing field can win championships.

The point is that we as students should carefully weigh the candidates in the light of ability and ambition, voting for representatives who will work together as a team and yet work just as hard on individual projects as on group projects.

Remember to VOTE Tuesday!

Music Major Has 'Talent' For Foreign Sports Cars

By JACK MOORE

A music major with a flare for sports cars is evidence that music students have interests other than music.

Talented pianist Nancy Garner in an effort to correct the misconception that all music majors are stick-in-the-muds," quoted her outside interests varying from sports cars to art.

Nancy, Tyler sophomore, is in her first year at TJC. Having taught music before, her aspirations include teaching piano, and doing concert work on the side. Nancy's goal has been the same since she first began to practice her C major scale 14 years ago.

"I have always known what I wanted to do with my life," she said. "Although I have digressed to other interests along the way, music has always been first."

Her first recognition came with the receipt of the Paderewski Piano Scholarship upon graduation from Tyler High School in 1956. The award was given by the National Music Guild for high scholarship and ten years membership in the guild.

The following summer Nancy appeared as piano soloist for the Houston Symphony.

She attended North Texas State College as a freshman, but returned to TJC last fall, to study under Joseph Kirshbaum, symphony conductor, and Oscar Ziegler, her present piano instructor. Nancy considers the pair two of the "best musicians ever."

Nancy's uppermost outside interest is sports cars.

"I get a big bang out of them," said the young brunette pianist. "Reading about them is fun, but even more fun is riding around in the 'puddle jumper,' the family's black French sports car."

Nancy's interest in art is displayed on various occasions by her posters for Atta Kula Kula, of which she is a member.

Nancy also accompanies TJC's singers and teachers in various engagements. With stress upon the fact that this is not part of her studies in music, she recently told of accompanying John Hunter, choir director, in a recital.

Nancy's first season with the East Texas Symphony Orchestra this year is work in the percussion section. "beating a drum here, and tinkling a triangle there."

Her big chance as a pianist for the symphony came in the symphony's last concert of the season, March 27-28. She was featured as a soloist in Saint-Saens' "Carnival of the Animals," presented for Tyler elementary school children.

Object Of Make-Up Is Natural Look

"The whole object of makeup is the natural look."

Miss Ruth Pettigrew of Merle Norman cosmetic studios gave this and other advice to the Apache Belles Friday in a make-up demonstration.

These are several of the basic rules in applying cosmetics:

"A moist base will prevent blotching," said Miss Pettigrew, "but if you can see it in the skin, it is too thick."

"The amount of rouge is determined by the occasion and the time of day. Wear more rouge at night or with dark dresses."

"Rouge should be applied in a circle, starting on the cheekbone. Go up to the eyes and frame them with color, extend it back to the hairline, and follow the smile line at the lower cheek. It should be blended to a natural flush."

"All makeup should be used sparingly. Press on powder—don't scrub or rub it on. Powder the rouge and eye makeup also."

Apache Association Recognizes Hutson As '58 Sweetheart

Barbara Hutson, a '58 all-campus beauty candidate, was recognized as the Apache Association sweetheart at their annual dance last Saturday night. She was presented an orchid by Reginald Nichols.

Barbara, a freshman, is also a cheerleader and an Apache Belle.

The Rose Center Building, site of the dance, was decorated in an outer space theme. Colorful sputniks carried out the theme and were hung throughout the Rose Center. Students danced to the music of the Champagne Boys.

Lion Fuller was in charge of decorations. Members of the decorations committee were Billy Black, Ned Jolly, David Pitcock, Larry Corley, Jack Henry, Don Keasler, Monroe Brewer, Karl Olsen, DeLora Henegar, Betty Williams and Laura Sipe.

The publicity committee was headed by Don Keasler. Other members were Freddie Head and Betty Williams.

Larry Corley and Nichols were in charge of refreshments and entertainment.

and Girl Scout groups, and in fostering a play school and kindergarten.

Floral arrangements will help carry out the color scheme of red, white and blue.

Time for the luncheon has been set at 12 noon, according to Billie Sue. She described it as an "unusually nice affair for the girls," and promised that those who attended would enjoy it.

Entertainment will consist of a violin solo by Ann Rylands, accompanied by Ingrid Ellison; a piano solo by Nancy Garner; and a vocal solo by Mrs. John Hunter.

Phi Theta Banquet Is Friday Night

The annual Phi Theta Kappa banquet has been set for Friday night. The banquet, held every spring for the formal initiation of new members, will be at the Blackstone Hotel.

The committees in charge of banquet arrangements are:

Program committee — Rick Mitchell, Frank Smyrl, and Karli Olsen; publicity committee — Ann Gilbert, Elizabeth Balfour, and Pat Gilliam; flower committee — Martha Guest, Jean Lawhorn, and Miss Jean Shirley.

In discussing general plans for the banquet, Miss Shirley said the committees are "making big plans, and the program and games will be on the lighter side before the more serious formal initiation."

'Football Workouts Look Encouraging'

By BUBBA McLEAN

Footballs are flying through the air out on the Apache practice field in the hope of rebuilding and molding another great team.

Head coach Floyd Wagstaff described this spring's squad as "an exceptionally fine group of boys, considering the talent we lost from last year's team."

Spring training is usually weak in junior colleges due to the fact that about half the boys leave at mid-term to go to senior colleges. This leaves only about one-half of the team for workouts.

Wagstaff said that ordinarily "With the loss of boys like Mac Hall, John Smith, and Bob Young at ends, things would look pretty dark. But we have six out for end, and they have all been doing a good job."

Along with Dan Thompson, Clayborn Moore, Charles McLellan, and Monroe Brewer, back from last season, others trying out for the end positions include John Toole, and Bob Sheppard.

"We are in good shape at tackle with Frank Holey, Wilburt Gorka, and Reginald Nichols back for another season. Jack Murphy, a mid-term transfer, has been looking good. So we are not hurting at tackle yet," Wagstaff said.

Cora: "I hear you have accepted Joe. Did he happen to mention that he proposed to me first?"

Laura: "Not specifically. He did say he had done a lot of foolish things before he met me."

With a little more depth at guard, Wagstaff named six boys back and added that they too had looked good in spring practice. Tooker was moved from end to guard.

Other guard prospects are Melvin Cox, Homer Turner, Riley Burnett, Jerry Askew, and David Pitcock.

With only one center back, Gary Raney, an all-state high school boy from Dallas, Wagstaff said he moved Wayne Earp from tackle to center, and reported both boys doing a fine job at center.

Wagstaff said they were also shaping up "pretty well" in the backfield. Don Keasler at quarterback will "rate along with any of our past quarterbacks."

Jimmy Sizemore, a mid-term transfer, has been showing up in the backfield, but has an injured finger hampering him at present.

At fullback are Larray Corley and Jim Leroy back for another year. According to Wagstaff, both boys have "size and speed and will see plenty of action next season."

Out for the halfback position, Wagstaff said James Shaw is "one of our better prospects along with Leon Fuller." Lanny Morrey has been moved to the halfback slot and is "doing fine." He listed Billy Black and the Jolly twins as also showing up as halfbacks.

Wagstaff said they were working out four days a week. The four-day schedule gives the boys a chance to attend track meets and to go home.

Twins Now Playing For Halfback Slot

Probably the first twins ever to play football for the Apaches are Ned and Ted Jolly. The twins come to TJC from Phillips High School in Phillips.

Ned Played halfback in high school and was a three-year letterman. While playing for the Blackhawks, he was awarded the player-of-the-week from his fine performance against Southeast High of Oklahoma City.

During the 1957 season, he did not see much action until the latter part of the year due to an injury received in high school. He is working out in the halfback position now in spring training. Ned stands at 5'11" and weighs in at 165.

Ted played end on the high school eleven and was a three-year letterman also. He has been switched to halfback position during the spring training and should see some action this fall. He is 5'8" and weighs 155.

HONORS—

will also be presented students who have an all "A" record in both their freshman and sophomore years. Last year's all "A" awards were to June Fletcher and Joyce Sigrist.

Miss Jeanne Shirley will present the new Phi Theta Kappa members their certificate of membership. Membership is composed of students excelling scholastically.

The student council will make achievement awards to its members who have rendered outstanding service to the student body. Presentation of the new officers will also be made.

SIX CHAMPIONSHIPS WON

87-20-4 Record Posted Over Years

By LARRY SMITH

Since 1947, when the Tyler Apaches played their first football game, they have stacked a tremendous 87-20-4 record into the books. The Tribe has won five conference championships and shared another.

Not only is their record an outstanding accomplishment, but the Apaches have been rated in the top five across the nation throughout the 10 years they have been playing, and have held the number one position at different intervals.

When Tyler first introduced a team in 1947, they surprised fans by compiling a 9-0 record and winning the Southwest Conference Championship. They won the right to play Compton Junior College of Compton, Calif., in the Texas Rose Bowl game in Tyler. The Apaches suffered a close defeat at the hands of the California crew, 20-19.

Met with some difficulty during the 1948 season, the Apaches could manage only a 7-3 slate. They lost this season to Kilgore, Little Rock College, and Lamar College. The Tyler eleven won over such colleges as San Angelo, Panola County, and Schriener Institute who were noted for their football teams at this time.

1949 Has 10-0 Record

1949 proved to be another exciting year for the Tribe. In compiling a 10-0 record, they ran up such scores as 40-0, 41-0, 43-13, 49-0, 47-0 and 61-0. They defeated such powerhouses as Arlington State, Los Angeles, McNeese, John Tarleton, and Lamar. They traveled to California and gained revenge on Compton from the 1947 season with a 28-14 victory. The Apaches, who were co-champions this year, played in the Texas Rose Bowl for the second time and walked off Ft. Lewis of Colorado, 40-0.

Entering the ranks of the Big Six Conference in 1950, Tyler walked off with the conference championship. They once again proved their strength in defeating teams by such scores as 30-7, 34-6 and 59-0. At the close of the season, the Apaches hit an all-time high in scoring by blasting Mexico City College, 90-0. Entering the Texas Rose Bowl for their third appearance, the Tribe defeated Wharton County Junior College 27-26 in a football thriller.

Tyler rode in the ranks of the undefeated once more in 1951. Besides being conference champs, they received the nod to go to the Little Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., but they lost a heartbreaker to Pasadena City College 29-26.

Tyler once again took possession of the conference crown in 1952 in setting a 7-2 grid record. Tyler dropped their first two games to Wharton and Del Mar, but won their remaining games in copping the title.

1953 saw the Tribe soar to another championship and take a 10-1 record on the field. They lost only to Del Mar, 26-12, but ran up such scores as 42-7, 66-0, 62-7, 33-7, 54-6, and 70-0.

Enter Longhorn Conference

They entered the Longhorn Conference in 1954 and suffered their worst season since organizing. They had to take a back-seat and watch the Rangers from Kilgore Junior College take the championship. The Apaches could master only a 6-3-2 record. For the first time in their history, the Apaches had to settle for a tie, when Del Mar battled the Tribe to a 14-14 standstill and Perkins-ton held the Apaches to a 6-6 deadlock.

The Apaches ran into some trouble in the 1955 season and had to settle for a 5-4-1 record. The four losses were very close with a total margin of 14 points. They lost to Texas Tech, 13-12, Wharton County, 6-0, (Tyler's first shutout), Del Mar, 12-6, and Kilgore, 14-13. The Apaches tied Northeastern Oklahoma 20-20. Tyler scored wins over San Angelo, Ranger, Perkinston, Victoria and Little Rock.

Tyler improved their record to 6-3-1 in 1956, but still had to take a back-seat in the championship drive. The Tribe scored wins over Northeastern Oklahoma, 34-6, Texarkana, 26-6, Texas Tech, 59-0, Perkinston, 39-0, Ranger 40-0, and Eastern Oklahoma A&M 71-0. They were held to a 7-7 tie by Del Mar and dropped games to the Kilgore Rangers, 13-0, Wharton, 14-7, and Victoria, 20-13.

1957 proved to be a brighter spot for Tyler as they compiled an 8-2 record after dropping out of the Longhorn Conference. The Apaches scored wins over San Angelo 7-6, Perkinston, 20-6, Texas Tech, 39-0, Wichita, Houston, Paris, 20-0, and Cameron, 16-7. Their only losses came at the hands of Texarkana, 13-7, and Northeastern Oklahoma, in a heartbreaker, 6-3.

Tyler received the invitation to play in the Hospitality Bowl in Mississippi and defeated Copiah-Lincoln Junior College for the title, 34-21.

CENTER SLOT—Gary Raney, letterman from last season, has the starting slot during spring drills.

Carl Dingler To Join Star-Telegram Staff

Carl Dingler, sophomore Journalism major, will join the Fort Worth Star Telegram in June.

Dingler, who will graduate this semester, is a member of the TJC Pow Wow staff and is presently employed by the Tyler Courier-Times as a sports writer.

While working on the Fort Worth paper, Dingler plans to continue his education at Texas Christian University.

THREE OF 11—'57-'58 Kappa Sigma Lambda officers review and discuss next Year's plans for the fraternity. They are Secretary Tommy Osborn, President George Sipper, and Vice-president Dan Parker. Elected in a

SIPPER, NEW PRESIDENT

Kappa Sigma Lambda Elects '58-'59 Officers

Eleven newly elected Kappa Sigma Lambda officers for 1958-59 will meet today at 10:13 to officially receive their offices from this year's fraternity administration.

George Sipper, this year's vice-president was elected to fill the presidential chair. He will replace two-year president, Shaw Clifton, special election meeting last Thursday, they will officially receive their offices along with eight others in a meeting with this year's officers today at 10:15.

Council Accepts KSL Membership

The men's fraternity, Kappa Sigma Lambda, recently became the fourth organization to formally receive membership on the student council.

The 48-member fraternity elected Jimmy Phipps, freshman spring semester pledge, to fill the position for the rest of the school year.

Phipps' representation will give Kappa Sigma Lambda a voice and a vote in decisions of the council. His entrance boosts the present council membership to 13.

Club representation is provided by a section in the constitution authorizing a representative from any campus organization with five per cent of day college enrollment.

Due to increased enrollment last fall, the 1957 student body added this amendment to the constitution to provide greater representation of various student groups.

In applying for representation the amendment requires organizations to submit the following information to Shirley House, chairman of the Membership Committee:

1. Number of members in the organization.
2. Process by which the representative is elected.
3. Signature of the officers and sponsor to the statement that the above information is true.

Upon recommendation of the Membership Committee and the approval of a voting majority of the student council, the elected representative is officially installed.

The only personal requirement or representatives is a "C" average.

The student council now consists of 13 members: the three student council officers, the three officers from both the freshman and sophomore classes, and four from the general student body.

Organizations receiving admittance under the new amendment this year are Sigma Sigma, represented by Wanda Blackwell; the Apache Band, represented by Sybil Duffey; and Texas Eastern School of Nursing, represented by Katherine Hooten; and Kappa Sigma Lambda.

TESN was admitted to the council this year as a result of an amendment last year giving TESC and the athletic dorm one representative each.

Industrial Leaders Explain Problems In Panel Meeting

What effect has the current recession had on business in this area?

What type youth is industry looking for?

A panel of five industrial leaders explained these problems in relation to their separate businesses at the College Town Hall held April 15, in the Science Lecture Hall.

The panel agreed the recession has had some effect on business with a slight drop in production and employment. They were, however, optimistic, and called this setback an "adjustment period to be followed by increased prosperity."

"This adjustment is the best thing that could have happened," said one member. "We are separating the men from the boys. We should have one of these periods about once every three years!"

Another member explained, "Salesmen have forgotten how to get out and sell. When they remember, people will begin buying again."

The program, held on a strict question-answer basis, brought out the great demand for competent executives.

"When you look for a job, look with the idea of becoming president of the company!" The panel agreed that diligence and determination were required to get ahead in the business world.

"We would rather have a student who made B's in school and is well-adjusted, clear-thinking, and ambitious, than one who made A's but has little initiative," stated one panelist.

The panel, members of the Texas Manufacturers Association, were executives in Tyler businesses.

They included W. Curtis Smith, president of Smith Tank and Equipment Company; Wilbert S. Johnson, general manager of National Homes Corporation; C. L. Sawyer, assistant manager of employee and plant community relations at General Electric Company; and E. C. Lawhorn, manager of the industrial department of Texas Power and Light.

John E. Rasco, director of public relations for TMA at Houston, acted as moderator.

Women's Physical Ed Begins Tennis Lessons

The increased traffic on the west sidewalk going toward Gentry Gymnasium leads to the new women's physical education class at work (or play).

The 21 girls enrolled in the course introduced this spring seem to enjoy the tennis lessons which last from three to four weeks, their instructor, Mrs. Prudy Arnold, said.

These were the 21 girls who accepted the "challenge of the unknown" and enrolled in the new course inaugurated this spring.

Although the courts are in pretty bad shape after years of non-use, they will not be restored for the lessons because the women's dormitory is supposed to be built at their present location in the near future.

"In the next week or so, we will begin bowling lessons, followed before the end of the year by archery," she said. Bowling lessons will be conducted at a downtown alley, but the archery lessons will be held out of doors on the campus.

Those girls who have looked out of classroom windows at the 21 and have seen them scamper after runaway tennis balls, maybe wonder why they missed such an obvious opportunity for fun.

Bryarly, Mills To Speak At NEA

Miss Elizabeth Bryarly, dean of women and head of the English department, and Hubert Mills, history instructor will be guest speakers at the Student Education Association meeting this morning at activity period, in Room 111.

"Why I Chose Teaching as a Career" is to be the subject of the addresses.

Howardine King will give a tribute to teachers. Donna Cox, program chairman, will introduce the speakers.

Plans will also be discussed for the all-school picnic to be held Thursday evening, May 8, at Tyler State Park, Kenneth Griffin, president of the association said.

The meeting is in keeping with this month, for April has been designated as Teaching Career Month, "a new nation-wide focus on the teacher's importance to America's future." A primary objective of Career Month is "to show that, for our country's survival, teaching must be the pre-eminent profession in American life."

Two lions escaped from the zoo in Washington, D. C. and didn't meet again for several weeks. One was fat, the other nothing but skin and bones. When they finally met, the emaciated one said,

"I've never seen you looking better. How in the world do you manage to be so well fed?"

Fat lion: "I've been hiding in the Pentagon eating a General every day. So far nobody's noticed it."

Dr. Wiley Jenkins Advises Change To Suitable Career

By MARTHA GUEST

"If you get into the wrong career, and you find something more suitable, arrange to change. Take a fling at something! You only live once," advised a local instructor who tried four occupations before he found the "true one."

Dr. Wiley Jenkins, head of the history department, persistently refused to teach, even after he had completed five years in college. But eventually he found that teaching was the right profession for him.

"You can't always be sure your choice of a career is right, so you shouldn't be discouraged when you have to change majors. Many times future plans look very interesting, but once they are realized, they lose their attractions," Dr. Jenkins continued.

"You should analyze your ambitions and objectives in life and determine which field comes most nearly to fitting your needs and desires. Any career chosen should offer opportunities for rendering service to others."

"Don't live frustrated and defeated, feeling that you didn't do what you wanted to. If you have chosen unwisely, be happy to have found out. You still have learned and gained in experience."

Desire To Be A West Point Cadet

To back up his advice, Dr. Jenkins related his experiences:

"My first ambition was to enter West Point as a cadet in the Army. Nothing is less appealing now."

His next thoughts were of journalism. He entered the University of Missouri to study journalism, but he found he would have to make up too many courses toward a profession which at that time offered few opportunities.

Radio, TV, and pictorial journalism; advertising as a profession, public relations, industrial editing, and other of the most influential media today were either just beginning or else not in existence then.

He got an MA in English instead. When he took his degree from the University of Missouri, he knew he was qualified to teach—but he didn't want to teach English. History was his undergraduate major, so he entered the profession "reluctantly."

Dr. Jenkins entered the Air Force during World War II. During his years in the service, he thought seriously of going into radio news. After coming to Tyler he worked briefly at one of the local stations and lost interest in radio as a profession, mostly because of the hours and of having to advertise someone's product.

"It was bad enough to have to read the advertisements," Dr. Jenkins said, "but to have everyone else recognize my voice doing it made it even worse."

At another time Dr. Jenkins thought he would like to be a captain in the Merchant Marine, but "experience in that area" changed his mind too. He worked on ships for about a year.

"In order to receive a deck cadetship, I said my life's ambition was to be a managing director of a steamship company. I was young, relatively uninhibited, and without family responsibilities. I wouldn't suggest this as an example of a normal life profession," said Dr. Jenkins.

At other times in his life he considered working in the immigration service, border patrol, and law.

Decides On Teaching Career

It was during his three years in the Air Force that he really "found" himself. With time to reflect, he began to see his past in relation to his future. He had taught math, English, science, Spanish, and history six years. In addition, he had been a junior high principal and a senior high coach.

"I began to look over the pros and cons, to consider what I was best equipped for. It was then that I realized I had fallen into the career that was right for me. So I resumed work on my doctorate in history at the University of Texas, and came directly to TJC to teach," Dr. Jenkins recalled.

Payment For Club Pages In 'Apache' Yearbook Due

"It is time for clubs and organizations to pay for their pages in the Apache Yearbook," announced Mrs. Averille Greenhaw, sponsor for the publication. She suggested that club and organization officers or sponsors make payments to her or the editor of the organization section, Beverly Bentley.

Distribution of the 400 yearbooks will probably be around May 10, Mrs. Greenhaw said.

Co-editor Shaw Clifton said 20 extra copies would be available for "first come" students. He said the copies were $7.50 if purchased before the yearbooks arrive, but $8 after arrival. These extra copies may be purchased through Mrs. Greenhaw, Clifton, or co-editor Charlene Davis. Students may use a weekly payment plan if they will make necessary arrangements with Mrs. Greenhaw.

Clifton said several "unusual plans were carried out in the first University-size book," but he said the theme, dedication, cover, and detailed information about the yearbook would not be made public.

Mrs. Greenhaw said reports from the printers, Henington Publishing Company of Wolfe City, said the covers were "turning out even more beautifully than had been expected." In general, all staff members agree that purchasers are getting a "different" yearbook and one they will be especially proud of.

General directions for baking a pastry shell: prick the shell well all over with a fork and bake in a very hot (450 degrees) oven for 12 to 15 minutes or until gold colored. Remove from oven, cool and then fill.

Swanson Essay Contest Begins Today

Writing of the Swanson Essays begins today and continues through Friday. Entrants will go to Room 103 to write their essays under the supervision of faculty committee members. Members of the committee are Miss Elizabeth Bryarly, Dr. Wiley Jenkins, and James Barnes.

Hours for writing are from 1-4 p.m. daily. Three days have been designated for writing of the essays, but an entrant must complete his essay in three hours. He may, however, choose the day he prefers to write his essay.

Chairman of the essay contest, Miss Bryarly, said she expected 15 or more entrants this year.

There is no limit to the number of words the essay may contain, but the student must write without notes.

He must turn in an outline but no bibliography is required.

The $120 cash award may be given to one person or apportioned as the judges see fit. The judges will be a secret committee.

Winners will be announced at the Honors Day Assembly, Tuesday, May 6.

Isbell's Team Leads Journalism Contest

The TJC Pow Wow staff, divided into two teams, continues to battle in its annual race for published inches.

The team led by Glenn Isbell holds a narrow lead over the team headed by Jack Moore. The score now stands at 390 inches to 388 3/4 inches, only one and one-fourth inches apart.

The three top scorers for the April 9 issue were Glenn Garner with 40 inches, Carolyn McWilliams with 38 1/4 inches, and Larry Smith with 27 inches.

Carolyn and Garner are on Isbell's team. Smith is on Moore's. The winning team will have the privilege of choosing when and where the annual party will be, refreshments, and form of entertainment.

The losing team must abide by these decisions and make all preparations for the party.
